PROGRESSIVE ROCK

ABOUT US

Locked away in padded room 113, multiple personalities grace the mind of a damaged soul. The many versions of her make it almost impossible for anyone to know which trauma is speaking through her in a given moment. The hate. The deceit. The anger. The past always wins in the game of haunt and seek. Her face sings innocence while her dark side screams guilt. You don't know her. But you soon will. And when you do, you'll find her, eyes open, plotting, smiling, and always ten steps ahead of you. Joined by her inmates, OPAKE was born.

MIZZ

Mizz, Aka Mizz_Weirdwide has been in the music scene since she was 16 as a vocalist and songwriter/lyricist. She is old now and looks damn good and creepy for her age. Her lifelong list of traumas have created a unique and fucked up space for unparalleled lyrics and presence. She isn't your girl next door; she is the nightmare your mom told you stories about when you were little.

CHRISTOPHER M.

Christopher Mason aka Mr. Sicks
Born Texas and raised in Houston.
Introduced at a very young age by his mom to Black Sabbath, and progressed from there. Enjoys sports, mainly football and baseball. He tries to live life to the fullest, and doesn't want you to just listen to music, he wants you to FEEL it!

DANNY

Coming from the South American metal scene, he's participated in different bands and musical projects from diverse metal genres, getting exposure through the region. Before having the opportunity of joining Opake, he had retired from music until his dad got him back into it again. Danny enjoys experimenting with sounds sometimes as well as discovering new music genres. He is always open to listen and understand what musicians do from a technical standpoint. His main musical genres had been always black and death metal, specifically technical death metal. He's truly looking forward to meet fans, discuss music, work, movies, etc, and have a great time while playing live or rehearsing.

ALEX

Alex Thornhill, the drummer/screaming vocalist for Opake. He is a multi-instrumentalist, and has been playing music since he was 7, thanks to his dad. He has been in the music scene for the last 6 years, and been in various different bands, over the years.
Ladies, he's 6'3", an animal lover, and may or may not like long walks on the beach.

You may have seen some of our band members on stage before. Mizz has been on stages from The House of Blues across the country to the Agora to your local dive bars. No stage is too big or small for them because they will make and bring friends in every bar, venue, arena that they grace a stage in.
